A collaborative service of the Grand Columbia  Health Alliance

Rasmussen and Bonadies provide total women's healthcare.

At Samaritan, healthcare is never looked at as "one size fits most." It's individual, customized, and personal. We listen. We care. That's why our OB/GYN care team includes Dr. Ryan Rasmussen and Lizzy Bonadies, certified nurse midwife.

Hometown professional.

Ryan Rasmussen, OB/GYN, grew up in Moses Lake and he's happy to be at Samaritan. Dr. Rasmussen brings his surgical skills and expertise in women's healthcare to care for the people of the Grand Columbia region he loves. He enjoys providing healthcare for women throughout all the stages of their lives—from adolescence through family planning, infertility, child-bearing, menopause, and more. He also knows the importance of being accessible to his patients, whether it's delivering their babies or helping them with infertility issues.

Dr. Rasmussen earned his Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Medicine and Health Sciences and completed his OB/GYN residency at Northeast Ohio College of Medicine/Aultman Hospital. He also has a Master in Business Administration degree with a focus in Public Healthcare Administration and earned his Bachelor's degree in pre-med and biology from Washington State University. He not only cares for patients, but he also serves as the Medical Director for Samaritan's OB/GYN department.

Total women's healthcare.

As an OB/GYN, Dr. Rasmussen understands the changes that happen in women's bodies, but he's also very easy to talk to about your own concerns. You don't need a medical crisis or an emergency to see him—you just need to be a woman.

From regular checkups to surgery or medical emergencies, Dr. Rasmussen helps women of all ages live their healthiest lives.

Skilled surgeon.

Dr. Rasmussen offers a wide range of services to his patients without needing to refer them out of town. His expertise in gynecological surgeries—such as minimally invasive procedures—allows him to provide state-of-the-art surgical care to his patients. Other surgical procedures include: vaginal, abdominal, laparoscopic hysterectomies; urinary incontinence procedures; endometrial ablations; tubal ligations; and pelvic reconstruction.

“Whether it's in the office or hospital setting, I love being able to offer a wide range of services to my patients throughout their lives without having to refer them out of town. I enjoy being accessible to my patients, whether it's delivering babies or helping someone with infertility issues.”
